

Genealogy on the Cutting Edge

THE BIGGEST GENEALOGICAL EVENT IN CANADA:

Whether you're a cutting-edge family historian or just cutting your genealogy teeth, the Ontario Genealogical Society's Conference in Toronto is the place to be in June 2016! Ensure your spot in limited enrolment events and the best rates—register early at: ogs.on.ca/conference/

FEATURES:

Cutting-edge lectures and workshops: Learn about the latest releases of genealogical records, new databases and indexes, innovative research strategies, and emerging technologies that promise to help connect ancestral lines and break down brick walls.

A 10,000 square foot Expo Hall: Discover the latest family history products and services, and meet OGS Branch and special interest group experts.

THURSDAY, JUNE 2:

Join one of our "Hands-on Research Excursions" to key archives and libraries, or attend a special pre-conference with either the Ontario Library Association or the Association of Professional Genealogists (Ontario).

Conference 2016 is grateful for the support of:

FRIDAY, JUNE 3:

Start your Conference weekend early—put together your own Friday package with a choice of:

- 12 concurrent workshops, including several designed to let you practice new skills hands-on;
- a behind-the-scenes tour of a working state-of-the-art genetics lab;
- a day at Spadina Museum learning about the impact of WWI.

And if this is your first Conference experience, be sure to attend our afternoon gathering for "first-timers"!

FRIDAY EVENING:

Conference 2016 really gets rolling with the Opening Ceremonies, including the Friday Keynote with Judy G. Russell on the ethical challenges of trying to solve family history mysteries in the 21st century, followed by a reception.

SATURDAY, JUNE 4:

Choose from over two dozen different expert lectures—there's something for everyone, including the Saturday Keynote with Lisa Louise Cooke on key strategies for the future, six sessions devoted to genetic genealogy and many aimed at helping you find and interpret the records you need.

Don't miss Saturday's social hour and Conference Banquet with journalist-genealogist extraordinaire Dave Obee!

SUNDAY, JUNE 5:

Choose from another wide array of lectures and our Closing Ceremonies, including the Sunday Keynote with CeCe Moore and her lessons from the cutting edge.

And stay tuned for more late-breaking choices to be revealed closer to the Conference date...
