To celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Royal Commonwealth Society

Guest Speaker,

The Hon. David C. Onley,
Former Lieutenant Governor of Ontario with Ruth Ann Onley as Vocalist

Throughout her sixty-five year reign, our gracious Queen Elizabeth II has devoted herself to keeping the Royal Commonwealth Society, which represents one third of the world's population, together through social and political change. In its 150th year, it continues to promote the principles of tolerance, diversity, freedom, justice, democracy, human rights and sustainable development to a generation living in an increasingly interconnected world.

The Honourable David C. Onley was the 28th Lieutenant Governor of Ontario from 2007 until 2014, the first with a physical disability, concentrating on accessibility for Ontario's 1.5 million people with disabilities, as well as expanding the First Nations' Literacy programme of his immediate predecessor, James Bartleman. He is the recipient of an amazing list of honours including the Order of Canada, St. John and Ontario, and the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal. A senior lecturer in the Political Science Department of University of Toronto, he also is conducting the Third Legislative Review of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (the AODA) for the Government of Ontario. Prior to becoming Lieutenant Governor, he had a successful 22-year news broadcast career at City tv and has portrayed Sir Oliver Mowat in the CBC drama, The Murdock Mysteries. It will be wonderful to hear His Honour speak of his experiences and of the importance of the 150th anniversary of the R.C.S.
